If District Engineering services are required, the Applicant will deposit $2,050.00 payable to the Rivergrove Water District to initiate the development permit. If engineering services are not required, applicant will complete this permit and submit a $50.00 permit fee.

Upon submittal of the Engineer cost estimate from approved plans, the applicant shall be responsible for depositing 10% of the project cost prior to starting construction. The District stamp of approved plans shall expire after six months from the permit date or upon a change in the scope of the project. Costs of plan review, construction inspection, as-constructed drawings, map updates, system development charges, legal review, water connection fees, and other related District expenses from the development will be assessed against the fees left with the District. At the completion of the development, any unused balance of the deposit will be refunded to the applicant. Any additional development charges incurred will be billed to the applicant. No water service shall be provided nor a final acceptance of the development for water service connections until all development expenses are satisfied and the required development conditions met.

I, _____, understand and accept the conditions for Development review, inspection, and final acceptance of the proposed development in the Rivergrove Water District.
